THE FOURSOME

"MARSHA!" Mrs. Grant called up to her daughter. "Lenny is here.'

"All right, Mother," Marsha answered rather uninterestedly. "I'll be down shortly."

Marsha looked at herself in the mirror and wondered why she was bothering anyway. It was probably a hopeless case and not worth all the time and dates she was wasting. Lenny was all right, she thought. He'd probably be a good date for Carol. But his older brother, Ross, was definitely more her type . . . at least she thought so. Her dream was coming to an end, though, and it was time to give it up. Ross had changed to an out-of-town college this year and her chances of seeing him were pretty slim. "Maybe I'll just push him off on Carol," she mused. "That way I'll keep some small finger in the pie."

Lenny, waiting in the Grant living room for Marsha, was being entertained by Carol. When the telephone rang and Carol excused herself to answer it, he thought, "What am I doing taking out Marsha when it's Carol I'd really like to date? And how can I tell that to Marsha? I could say, 'Marsha, I really like Carol better than you, so I'm giving you up!' No . . . that wouldn't do. 'Marsha,' you're really a little too old for me . . . I think I'll give Carol a break!' No . . . not that. I'll just have to think of something. I'll ask Ross when he comes home for Christmas vacation. He'll have an idea."

Carol, accepting a date on the telephone, was thinking to herself, "I'd really rather go out with Lenny. I wish Marsha would give him up . . . or could I manage to break them up! That eternal triangle again . . . only they don't know it's a triangle."

Marsha forced a smile and skipped downstairs to greet Lenny. They went to a movie and then for a soda. On the way home, Lenny reminded her of their date for the following Saturday night and for the annual Christmas dance at the school a week later. "Would your sister Carol like to join us Christmas eve?" he suggested casually. "She's a nice kid and I'm sure I could get her a date. It would be a nice foursome."

"Why, that's a wonderful idea, Lenny. I'll ask her," Marsha said as sweetly as possible. "Pairing those two off is going to be easier than I imagined," she thought to herself.

The two girls were only a year apart in age. Marsha was seventeen and a senior at Lawrenceville High School, and Carol was a junior there. Both were attractive and popular, but unless you were in the know you would never guess they were sisters. Marsha had long blonde hair, bright blue eyes and a pink complexion; Carol had short, curly dark hair, grey-green eyes and a white skin.

For the next week, things were much more cheerful around the Grant household. Mr. and Mrs. Grant couldn't help but notice the change in atmosphere, though they were not sure what the cause was. "The girls are being unusually polite to one another," Mr. Grant said to his wife one evening when they were getting ready for bed. "But somehow I can't help but feel that we're all treading on very thin ice."

"Yes, I know what you mean," Mrs. Grant agreed. "Well, let's enjoy peace while it lasts."

At the Nelson household, Lenny was anxiously awaiting the homecoming of his brother to help him solve his love problems. The Wednesday evening when Ross arrived, Lenny captured him in his bedroom, locked the door, and presented his dilemma. Ross agreed it was a problem and wondered if Lenny couldn't just have a fight with Marsha, break off, and then call Carol for a date, but Lenny thought that was pretty crude.

"Marsha's really a very nice girl," Lenny said. "I wouldn't want to hurt her. I like her . . . I just like Carol better. You'd like Marsha, too, if you met her." That gave Lenny an idea. "Say, Ross, why don't you take Marsha out, make her fall for you so she'll give me up, and then, supposedly with a broken heart, I call Carol to mend it."

"Not so fast, Len," Ross said. "I'm not interested in any high school kid."

"But, she's a senior . . . and you're only a college sophomore. And she's awfully nice . . . and pretty, too. Do you have any special date plans for the holidays?"

"No," Ross admitted slowly.

"Then, come on. What have you got to lose?"

"Well, OK. But I reserve the right to throw in the towel at any time if I so choose."

"All right, all right. How will we begin?"

"You say you have a date with Marsha this Friday night. You'll call in the afternoon and say you're sick and if she doesn't mind, I'll take her out. That's the first step. But make sure that she accepts. Then, at the Christmas dance, at the last minute you couldn't get a date for Carol, so I come to the rescue. I'll try to keep Marsha occupied while you make time with Carol."

"Sounds swell, Ross. What then?"

"Well, we'll see what the situation is after the dance. But, remember . . . I can change my mind and no hard feelings."

"Sure, Ross."

When the telephone rang that Friday afternoon at the Grant house, Marsha answered it.

"What, you're sick? Gee, I'm sorry, Len. Ross wants to come over instead? S-sure, it's OK. Tell him I'd be happy to go out with him," Marsha said.

When she hung up, she danced up the stairs to her room singing, "Ross is going to take me out . . . Ross is coming over for me!"

Carol poked her head out of her room and said, "What was that, Marsh? I thought you were going out with Lenny tonight?"

"Well, I was, but he's sick, and his wonderful, handsome, older brother, Ross, is coming over in his place. Come on, help me choose a suitable outfit for this occasion."

"You seem awfully excited over a substitution," Carol said suspiciously.

"I am. I guess I can tell you, Carol. Lenny's very nice, but it's Ross I really like. That's why I've been going out with Lenny . . . to be around when Ross got home from college. You know what I mean."

"You really mean it?" Carol said. "I've got a confession too . . . I like Lenny. I didn't say anything because you were going out with him and I thought you liked him."

"Gee, why didn't you? I never guessed. Maybe tonight will be our chance. If I can get Ross to like me, I'll swing a date for you with Lenny. You can have him anyway, but it'll be a lot easier if Ross likes me."

Together they tried on dress after dress, deciding that one was too dressy, one the wrong color, one too young. They finally settled on a pink sweater set with a full brown tweed skirt, and a brown belt of Carol's to match brown suede shoes.

Ross rang the bell, and Mrs. Grant opened the door and showed him in. Neither girl was in sight. Upstairs, Marsha, with Carol's help, was putting on the finishing touch . . . a dab of her mother's best perfume. She sent Carol down as scout to prepare the way for her grand entrance.

Ross, seeing Carol enter the living room and thinking to himself, "Hmm, she's cute. This may not be half bad," was caught off guard when she said, "Hi, I'm Carol. Marsha will be down in a moment."

Marsha appeared a few minutes later with a nonchalant, "Hello, Ross. It's so nice to see you. And it's very nice of you to pinch hit for Lenny."

Ross answered sincerely, "The pleasure is all mine."

The evening proved a big success, and Ross said that he certainly hoped he would see Marsha again.

The next step according to plan was to bring Ross along as Carol's date for the Christmas dance. The girls were overjoyed when the suggestion was offered, and they eagerly accepted . . . though they were careful not to show all their enthusiasm and overplay their hand.

As arranged by the boys, Ross kept Marsha busy and Lenny occupied his time with Carol; and as arranged by the girls, Carol gave her attentions to Lenny and Marsha played up to Ross.

The four of them had a wonderful evening. When they returned home to the Grant house, Ross said, "How about the four of us repeating this on New Year's Eve?"

The girls eyed each other and smiled. Lenny winked at Ross who added, "But what say we change partners?"

She Once Had THIN LEGS!

"Now I have Fuller Calves, Shapely Thighs, Hips and Ankles."

Writes Miss R. U., Cleveland, Ohio

THE most encouraging news for women with thin, under-developed legs has just been revealed by Henry Milchstin, Ph.T. If your thin legs are due to normal causes and you haven't any disease or pathological condition, you should now attract the strong alluring shapely legs you've always wanted. This well-known physiotherapist, who was, President of the Metropolitan School of Physiotherapy and is a member of the New York State Society of Physiotherapists, has an enviable record of helping lovely stage and screen actresses as well as women like yourself to mold beautiful legs. Over a period of 32 years, he has used an amazingly natural method which is unsurpassed by anything we have ever seen.

ORDINARY METHODS FOUND TO HELP LITTLE IN FILLING OUT THIN LEGS

Many women engaged in improper strenuous exercises and calisthenics used up a lot of time and energy but it did next to nothing for rounding out skinny legs.

Other women actually tried weight gaining diets to improve skinny legs. The legs generally gain far less, if anything, in proportion than the rest of the body. Also, adding flabby fat to the legs does not necessarily result in the seductive, shapely curves which men admire and which look so appealing in anything you wear.

WHICH LEG PROBLEMS ARE YOURS?

IN MANY CASES DOCTORS ADVISE USE OF THIS TECHNIQUE

This Progressive Scientific Method for developing skinny legs is based on the knowledge and experience of the medical profession, physiotherapists and famous body building experts throughout the world.

The wonderful, scientific method is intended to stimulate the tissues and muscle structure of the legs and encourage their development to normally rounded natural contours. When blood circulation is properly stimulated to the point where it helps nourish those lazy tissues, it also tends to tone the skin with a vibrant glow. When each section of the leg has its proper normal shape, the hips possess seductive, feminine curves which men admire, the thighs are superbly rounded, knees are daintily shaped without knobby, bony appearance, the calves fill out with soft curves, and even the ankles are pretty and appealing. Remember, the muscular structure of a woman's leg is basically different from a man's. So that when your legs develop, you only add graceful feminine curves.

"ALL-AROUND GLAMOUR LEGS" HELP WOMEN IN EVERYTHING THEY DO

Most figure experts agree that poor legs spoil an otherwise shapely figure . . . while nicely rounded limbs add an appearance of over-all beauty to even the poor and average figure. Because the legs are the one part of the body which always shows, glamorous legs help you look better in any clothes you wear — dresses, skirts, sports and play clothes, bathing suits, etc. They make you a more desirable dance partner and help you do the latest steps more gracefully. Well-formed legs help you in all sports; they enable you to swim, skate, bowl, play tennis, etc., with more ease and better form. They help you walk and stand with ease, with the posture which always wins admiration.

They give you more energy for work and play, help lessen fatigue, especially when your job or housework keeps you on your feet.

ANOTHER OF THE MANY WOMEN WHO HAVE SEEN RESULTS WRITES HER LEGS LOOK SO MUCH BETTER

"My legs look so much better. I would like to express my gratitude for your course. They have helped my legs a great deal."
—writes Mrs. E. W., Monroe, Mich.

WRITTEN ABOUT IN LEADING HEALTH MAGAZINE

HEALTH CULTURE asked this authority on legs to write a series of articles on the fundamentals of this method. This magazine rightly believed that their readers should know about this wonderful technique. Many other leading magazines and newspapers have written about the priceless advantages of correct leg development.

TESTED AND PROVEN METHODS REQUIRE ONLY 15 PLEASANT MINUTES A DAY!

This amazing method has been used by beautiful stage and screen stars, professional models and women in every walk of life. Thousands have gladly paid high fees for personal instruction here in New York City. Now this famous expert makes it possible for any woman to try his method, requiring only 15 minutes a day, right in the comfort and privacy of her own home at a tiny fraction of this cost.

You get the complete, easy, step-by-step illustrated SCIENTIFIC LEG DEVELOPMENT TECHNIQUE with simple instructions for under-developed hips, thighs, knees, calves, ankles; gaining stronger legs; improving skin tone and circulation in legs; normal causes of skinny legs; plus measurement chart for each section of leg according to height and weight; also, how leg development may improve general health. Albert Dorne – probably the greatest money-maker in the history of commercial art. At the height of his career, he began a full-time search for people who like to draw.

He's Looking for People Who Like to Draw

TODAY HUNDREDS of men and women who never thought they could be artists are working happily at easels and drawing boards, making pictures, and getting well paid for it. They all can thank Albert Dorne, a famous artist who devotes almost his full time to helping other people become artists.

Some of the people Dorne has helped

Don Smith of New Orleans is an example. A few years ago, he knew nothing about art, even doubted he had talent. Now he is an illustrator with a large advertising agency.

John Busketta is another. He was a pipefitter's helper in a big gas company. Today he still works for the same company, but as an artist in the advertising department, with a big increase in pay.

Harriet Kuzniewski was bored with an "ordinary" job before she heard of Albert Dorne. Today she does high-style fashion illustration in New York.

With the right training, Wanda Pickulski gave up her typing job to become fashion art'st for a local department store.

John Whitaker of Memphis was an airline clerk two years ago. Recently he won a national cartooning contest and was signed to do a newspaper comic strip.

Long before Albert Dorne started looking for people who like to draw, they came to him for advice and help. Since he alone could only help a few of these people he called together America's most successful artists – men like Norman Rockwell, Jon Whitcomb, Stevan Dohanos and Al Parker.

A Plan To Help Others

He said: "All over America, there are people who like to draw, who could be turned into good artists. Why can't we give these people the training they need—including all the trade secrets and know-how we've learned over the years? I'm suggesting a new kind of school—a home-study art school that would give talented people the best professional art training, no matter where they live."

The famous artists agreed. Taking time from their busy careers, they spent several years creating a remarkable series of art lessons covering every aspect of drawing and painting. They illustrated their lessons with over 5,000 "here's-how" illustrations. The lessons start from scratch and cover every skill a top artist needs. Finally, the famous artists developed a wonderful way to give each student personal correction and advice all through his training.

Albert Dorne is not surprised by the success of his students. "The art field is growing. We keep getting calls from all over the country, asking us for practical well-trained students who can step into full-time or part-time art jobs."

Famous Artists Talent Test

To find others with art talent worth developing, the famous artists created a 12-page talent test. Thousands paid $1 for this test, but now the School offers it free and will grade it free. If you show talent on the test, you will be eligible for training by the School. No obligation. Simply mail coupon. It might be your first step to an exciting, well-paid career in art.
